The growing number and complexity of financial products and services offered by financial institutions demand a high degree of financial literacy now a day. Inclusion of financial literacy in school/college curriculum is one solution. Financial literacy impacts the daily decisions an average family makes when trying to balance a budget, buy a home, fund their children's education and ensure an income at retirement. India is undertaking a massive financial education campaign to help people manage money more effectively to achieve financial well-being by accessing. Appropriate financial products and services through regulated entities. Several studies have been conducted on financial literacy and it is found that studying subjects related to economics has a stronger positive influence in the case of theoretical knowledge on financial matters.
